To Put On Flesh And Increase Weight

A Physician's Advice.

Most thin people eat from four to six pounds of good solid fat-making food every day and still do not increase in weight one ounce, while on the other hand many of the plump, chunky folk eat very lightly and keep gaining all the time. It's all a matter of the quality of the food. It isn't Nature's way at all.

Thin folks stay thin because their powers of assimilation are defective. They absorb just enough of the food they eat to maintain life and a semblance of health and strength. Stuffed won't help them. A dozen meals a day won't make them gain a single "stay there" pound. All the fat-producing elements of their food just stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste. What such people need is something that will prepare these fatty food elements so that their blood can absorb them and deposit them all about the body—something, too, that will multiply their red blood corpuscles and increase their blood's carrying power.

For such a condition I always recommend eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is not, as some believe, a patented drug, but is a scientific combination of six of the most effective and powerful flesh building elements known to chemistry. It is absolutely harmless, yet wonderfully effective and a single tablet eaten with each meal often has the effect of increasing the weight of a thin man or woman from three to five pounds a week. Sargol is sold by the Arnold Drug Co. and other good druggists everywhere on a positive guarantee of weight increase or money back.—Adv.

Boy Cashed to Take Medicine.

Chautauqua, Kan., March 26.—Depositors of the defunct Citizens' State bank are expectantly awaiting the return of Frank E. Turner, 28-year-old cashier, who fled January 28. Relations say he is now on his way back from Brazil and will return to Chautauqua to "take his medicine." The depositors have postponed criminal action until Turner comes back.

CAN'T BEAT "TIZ" WHEN FEET HURT

"TIZ" for sore, tired, puffed-up, aching, calloused feet or corns.

"Sure! I use TIZ every time for any foot trouble."

You can be happy-footed just like me. Use "TIZ" and never suffer with tender, raw, burning, blistered, swollen, tired, smelly feet. "TIZ" not only "TIZ" takes the pain and soreness out of corns, callouses and bunions.

As soon as you put your feet in a "TIZ" bath, you just feel the happy, cool, soothing in. How good your poor old feet feel. They want to dance for joy. "TIZ" is grand. "TIZ" instantly draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause sore, inflamed, aching, sweaty, smelly feet.

Get a 25-cent box of "TIZ" at any drug store or department store. Get instant foot relief. Laugh at foot sufferers who complain. Because your feet are never, never going to bother or make you limp any more.—Adv.

SOCIETY

Word has been received in Topeka of the marriage of Miss Marcella Renaux of Pueblo, Colo., and Mr. Burr Willard, formerly of Topeka. Mr. Willard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Willard of 1014 Topeka avenue, a prominent Topeka family. The marriage took place in September, but a public announcement of the event has not previously been made. Mr. and Mrs. Willard will make their home in Herington, Kan.

The soft thin voile of this striped blue and white frock is puckered up into rows of puffs at the hip and two little ruffles hold out the wide skirt at the foot. Belt, buttons and bracelet cuffs are of blue taffeta that matches the blue stripe in the voile. Like most of the summer frocks of whatever material, this one has long sleeves, but the lace chemise, high-collared at the back, opens in front in cool V effect.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Foley will have guests to dinner tonight as a farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. James Cable, who will leave soon for their former home in Kansas City. Mr. Cable is the retiring member of the state utilities commission, and in the two years that he and Mrs. Cable have been in Topeka, they have made a good many friends.

Covers will be laid for Mr. and Mrs. Cable, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Mulroy, Mr. and Mrs. John Kinkel, and Mr. and Mrs. Foley.

The Elwell club will be entertained at a bridge-luncheon Tuesday by Mrs. A. E. Sweet, 709 Taylor street.

Professor Margaret J. Blair of Minnesota is giving a series of lectures at the Warren M. Crosby store. The audience is seated in the assembly room on the third floor of the store, and there is no charge for admission. Professor Blair belongs to the home economics department of the University of Minnesota, and her lecture today is on Home Furnishings and Textiles, a Shopping Lesson. Thursday afternoon she spoke on "The Table and Its Appointments," and her lecture today will be on "Health and Beauty."

Mrs. Blair believes that the table should be made attractive for the family as well as for guests. It is well to have on the table a centerpiece of flowers to add to the cheerfulness of the meal. The memory of a pleasant table at home helps the children of the family in later years. Have good cheer, laughing and talking at the table.

She spoke at length on the proper way of setting a table. "The plates should be placed an inch from the edge of the table and the pieces of silver should be half an inch apart. The order of the silver should be from the outside toward the plate. The knife is placed on the right with the front of the blade toward the plate; the cocktail fork next, as it is more graceful to take it from that side. On the left is placed the dessert, salad and dinner forks. Bread and butter plates are put at the top of the fork times, and glasses at the tip of the knives. Napkins are folded at the left of the forks if the dinner plates are set. Dishes to be passed are served, of course, from the left. Dishes are placed at the right."

Mrs. Blair considers a round table the better shape as it gives more room, and makes serving easier. "Plain tables are proper. The Jacobean style is good because of the rounding edges. The hostess should always be served first."

Mrs. Blair says that people should take pains in the performance of even the smallest duties and learn to do things easily. "Anything you can do well is an art," she says. She gave her audience a hint on buying glassware. She says that the blue tinged glass is best. The yellow and pinkish casts have been fired too long and are brittle.

"Don't criticize the family at table," she added. "It hurts digestion."

Miniatures, they say, are coming in again, in spite of the hard times. One can get a lot of prestige out of a row of family miniatures, and it is really the duty of this generation to provide for the echel of the next. The miniature of oneself as a bride, for example, is no end of help later on to show that one's family was in financial solvency at that far date.

The Mothers' C. E. society of the First Congregational church and a few other friends will give a thimble party Saturday afternoon at three o'clock at the home of Mrs. Louis Van Boorp, 1115 Polk street, in honor of Mrs. Louise Daniels, whose marriage to Mr. Fred Woodbury of Olivet, Kan., will take place soon.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Drake entertained at dinner at their home in Harrison street Thursday evening. The dining room was decorated in pink and white, the centerpiece for the table being a bouquet of pink roses. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. G. McKinstry, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Agard, Miss Mildred Agard and Mr. and Mrs. Drake.

MONEY FOR TALENT.

Accordian Player Will Give $1,000 to One Who Plays Overture.

P. Frosini, accordian player and composer, who is at the Novelty the last half of the week, offers $1,000 to anyone who can play on an accordian the piece of music composed by him. The challenge is an Italian one, made that day. He has been since he was a little boy. He plays the instrument for boys and many Topeka people have played Santa Fe Watch machine company for difficult airs in not going to play in the present lighter and more popular melodies, mixed with semi-classical selections.

There's but one instrument in the world that will reproduce Frosini's composition faithfully, that is the
